(1) Did you receive any training regarding the Recovery Act concerning reporting, accountability, transparency, and procurement requirements? From whom and how was the information presented? (2) Was any guidance provided by the Federal agency regarding Recovery Act programs and how to apply for the respective programs? How was the information provided and was it helpful? (3) What was the process for preparing and getting your application prepared and approved prior to submitting it to the Federal agency? (4) Did the program terms and conditions stipulate how Recovery Act funds were to be requested and deposited once received? Has this process been followed? Have you verified that funds received were deposited as required by the terms and conditions?

- (5) Given the objective of the program, how are the funds to be expended (e.g, equipment, vehicles, contractual personal services, or construction services)? Did you prepare an acquisition plan of how and when the items and services were to be procured? Is your budget office restricting or allotting your program's funding so that you cannot procure the services, equipment and supplies to effectively implement the program? If so, please explain.
- (6) What was the process followed for each category of procurement? Do you know if it was sole-source or competitive? Are you aware of any procurement issues with your Recovery Act program or any other Recovery Act program?
- (7) What expenditure reports do you use to monitor your program's progress? Based on these reports do the expenditures reflect the program expenses that have been incurred? Have expenditures been charged to your program that do not directly relate to your program? If so what were they and did you question them with the finance office?
- (8) Has anyone from your government's Recovery Act oversight office reviewed the progress of your program during a site visit? If so, what was the result?
- (9) Does your program have an implementation plan with milestones? Where are you currently with respect to that plan? Do you have pictures or reports documenting milestone completion? Have you encountered any problems?
- (10) Has your program created any jobs? If so, have you received guidance on how to determine and report the number of jobs? Has the guidance been useful?
- (11) What is the process you follow for entering the quarterly reporting information? If you are unclear about what to enter or report, who do you go to on-island for guidance and clarification? In your opinion, is your reporting consistent with what other Recovery Act program administrators are reporting?
- (12) Are you aware that you and your staff as well as contractors and their staff can report waste, fraud, and abuse with Recovery Act programs to the Office of the Inspector General's Office and be protected against retaliation from your government boss or contractor? If you are aware of this protection, how did you become aware of it? Does your government have a hotline to report Recovery Act fraud? (Ref: Recovery Act Section 1553)

(13) Does your program have any sub-recipients as a contractor or autonomous agency? If so, please identify the entity and what they do as a sub-grantee.

(14) As the prime recipient how do you ensure that the sub-Recipient complies with all the Recovery Act oversight requirements?

Procurement

Objective:

This questionnaire is intended to identify what action(s) the chief procurement officer is taking to ensure that the procurement of contract services (consultants, professional services, and road and building construction and repair), equipment, and supplies for Recovery Act funded programs complies with the Act provision to award competitive, fixed-price contracts (Section 1554).
